Dear families,

At The Carlton Academy, we are committed to working in partnership with families to ensure every student can achieve their very best, both now and in the future. Our Home Academy Commitment is built on shared high expectations for behaviour, attendance, uniform, and academic effort, underpinned by a strong culture of respect and ambition. This document summarises our commitment to our students but also summarises the support I know we can count on you to give us. Please find the document here:

As you know, we have high expectations of our students and their learning and the vast majority of our students do this every day. As we would at the start of every year, when we return in September, we will be revisiting with all students the key things we do each day to develop a strong culture. These basic routines help to make the school the great learning environment that it is.

We haven't always shared with you what these basic routines are, so I wanted to share with you a useful document which summarises these daily expectations you can find this summary here:

We hope you can discuss these with your child/children over the coming weeks, before returning after the summer break. We hope this helps to give you an insight into the daily routines of our academy.

We greatly appreciate your ongoing support. A strong partnership between school and home is key to helping your child thrive both academically and personally and we value that partnership with you.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs L Watson
